With a mission to promote e-learning and disseminate quality education, the Amrita E-Learning Research Lab will launch its indigenously developed e-learning software Amrita Virtual Interactive E-Learning World (A-VIEW) here on January 21 for universities and colleges of the State.

The launch would be held during the Bharat Yatra 2013 of Amma, Sri Mata Amritanandamayi. As a world renowned humanitarian leader and the Chancellor of Amrita University, Amma is guiding several research projects for benefit of the society.

Deputy Director of Indian Institute of Technology School of Electrical Sciences Prof Ganapati Panda, Chief Information Commissioner Satyananda Mishra and Centurion University Pro-Vice-Chancellor and VC in charge Dr Ardhendu Mauli Mohanty would attend the function.

A-VIEW is provided free of cost to all institutes of higher education. A-VIEW has been successfully deployed at more than 2000 higher educational institutions across the country and is gradually getting extended to schools and vocational centres.
